

Red Blood Cell and his mom visit baby animals and their mothers at the zoo.

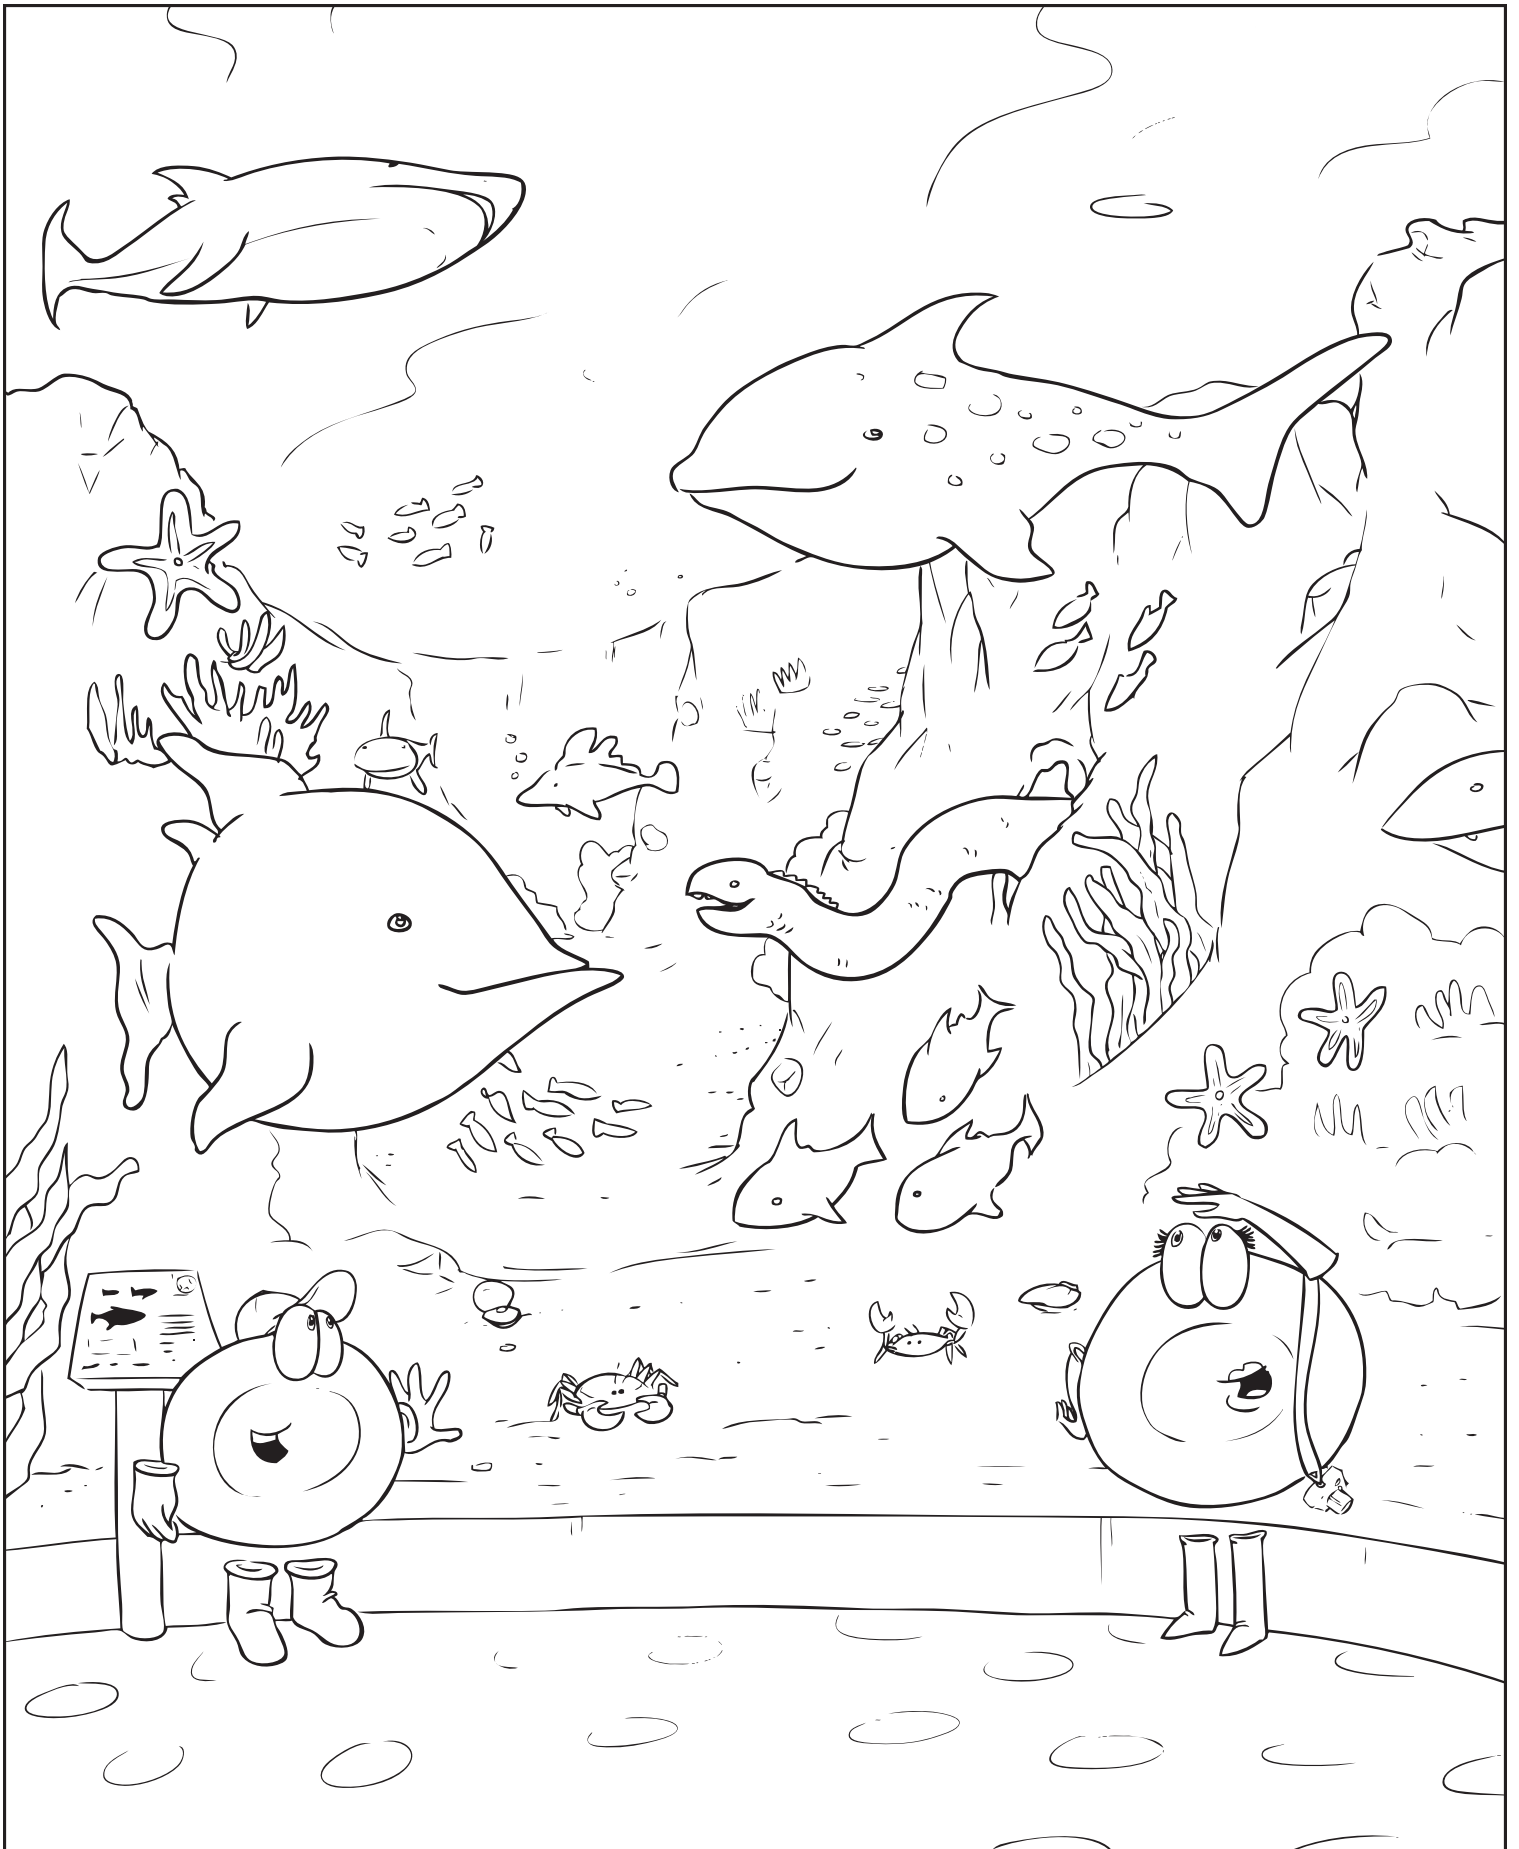

They see elephants drink water.
Red needs lots of water to be a healthy red blood cell.

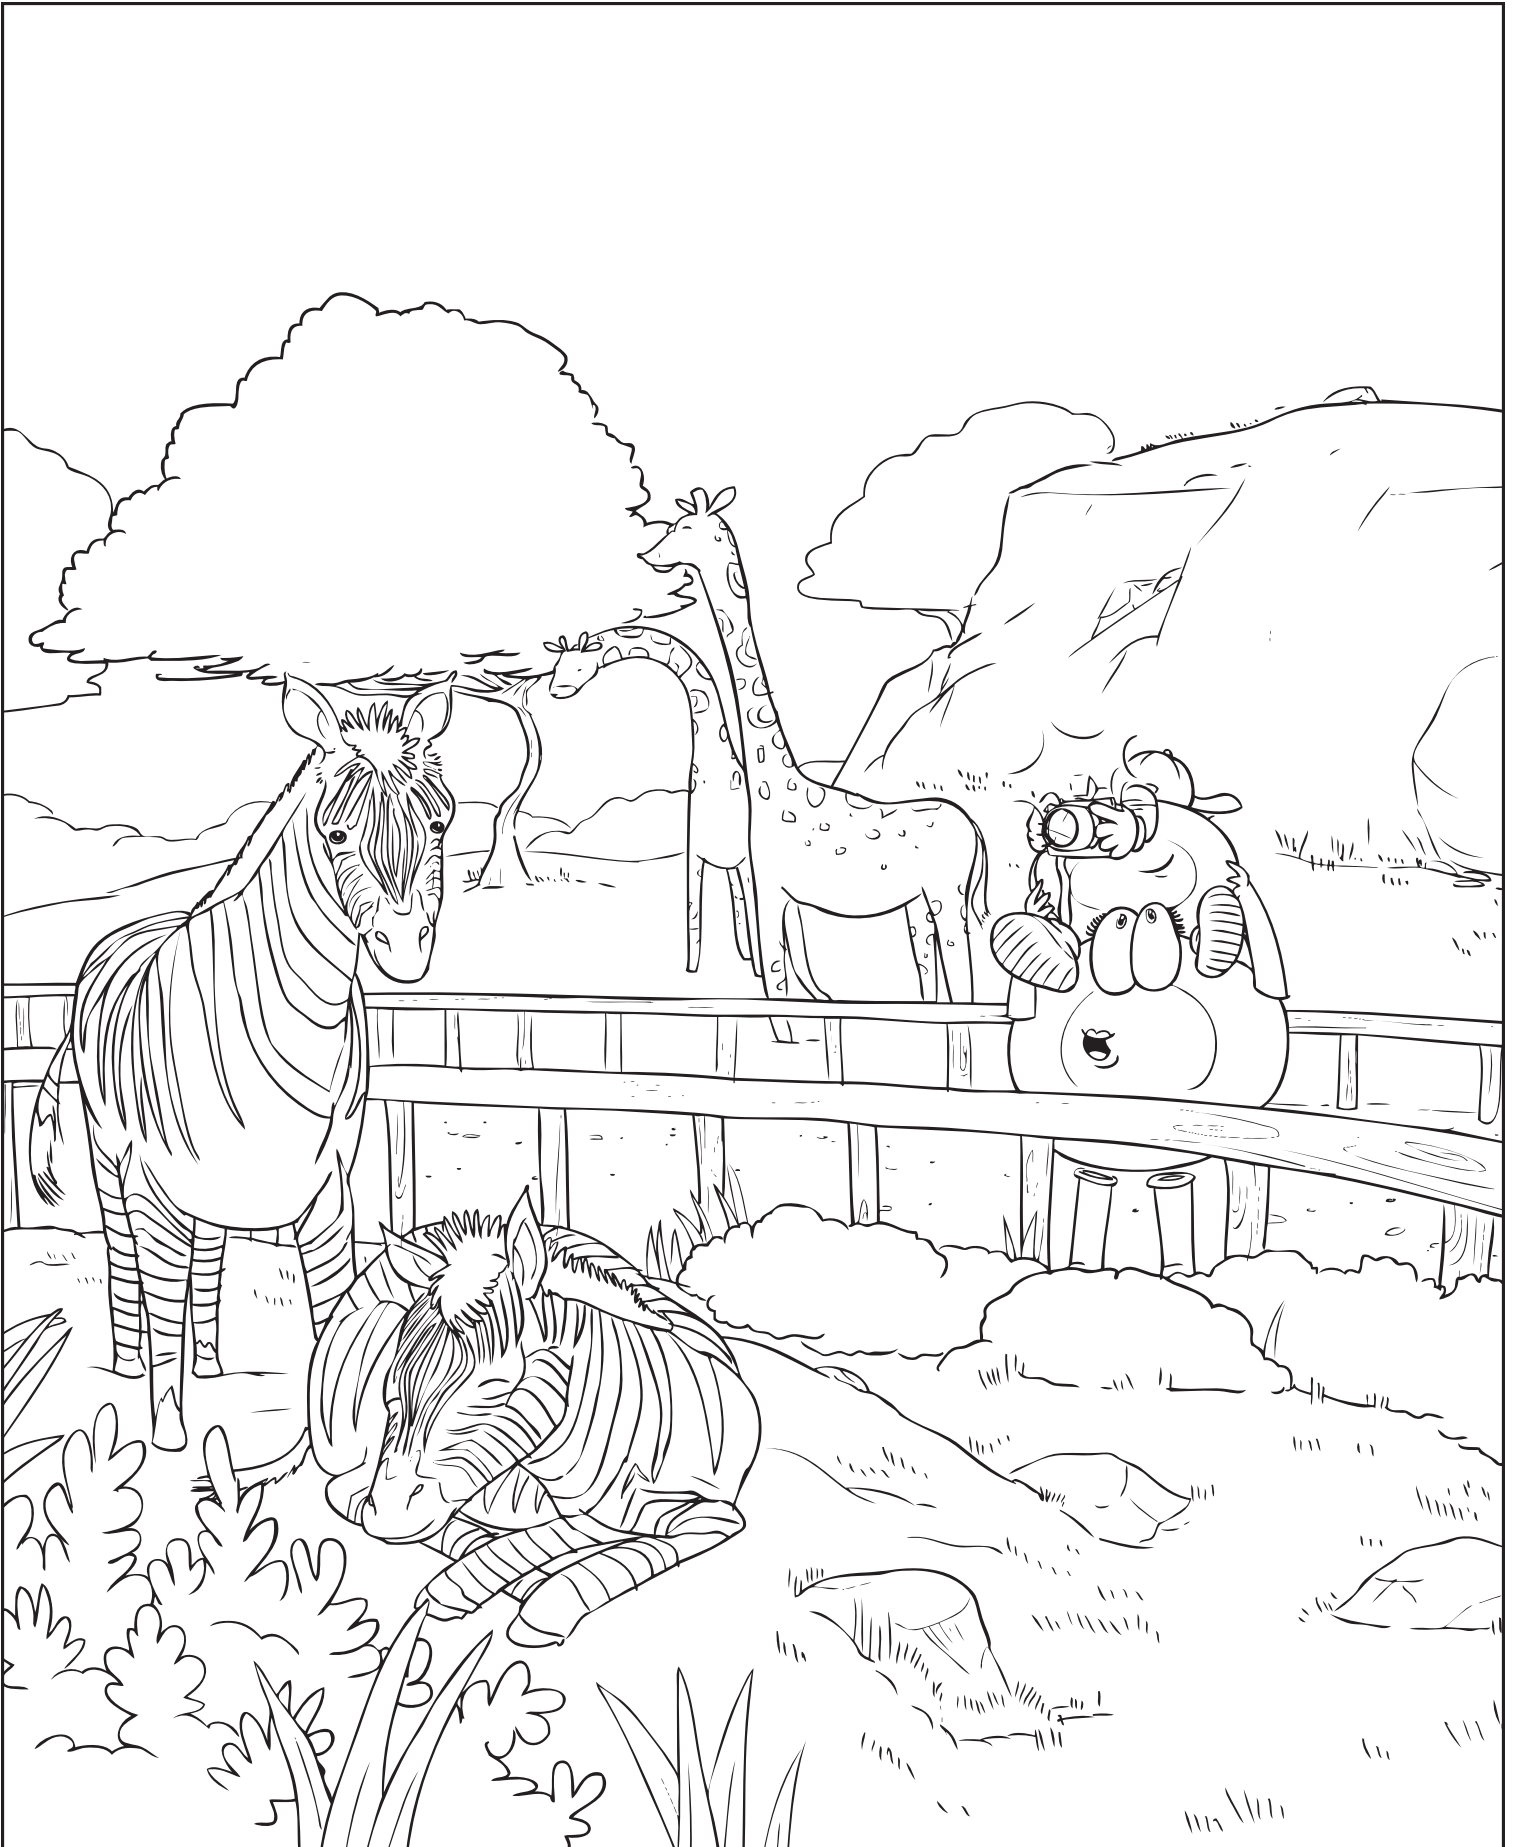

Cheetahs are the fastest animals at the zoo.

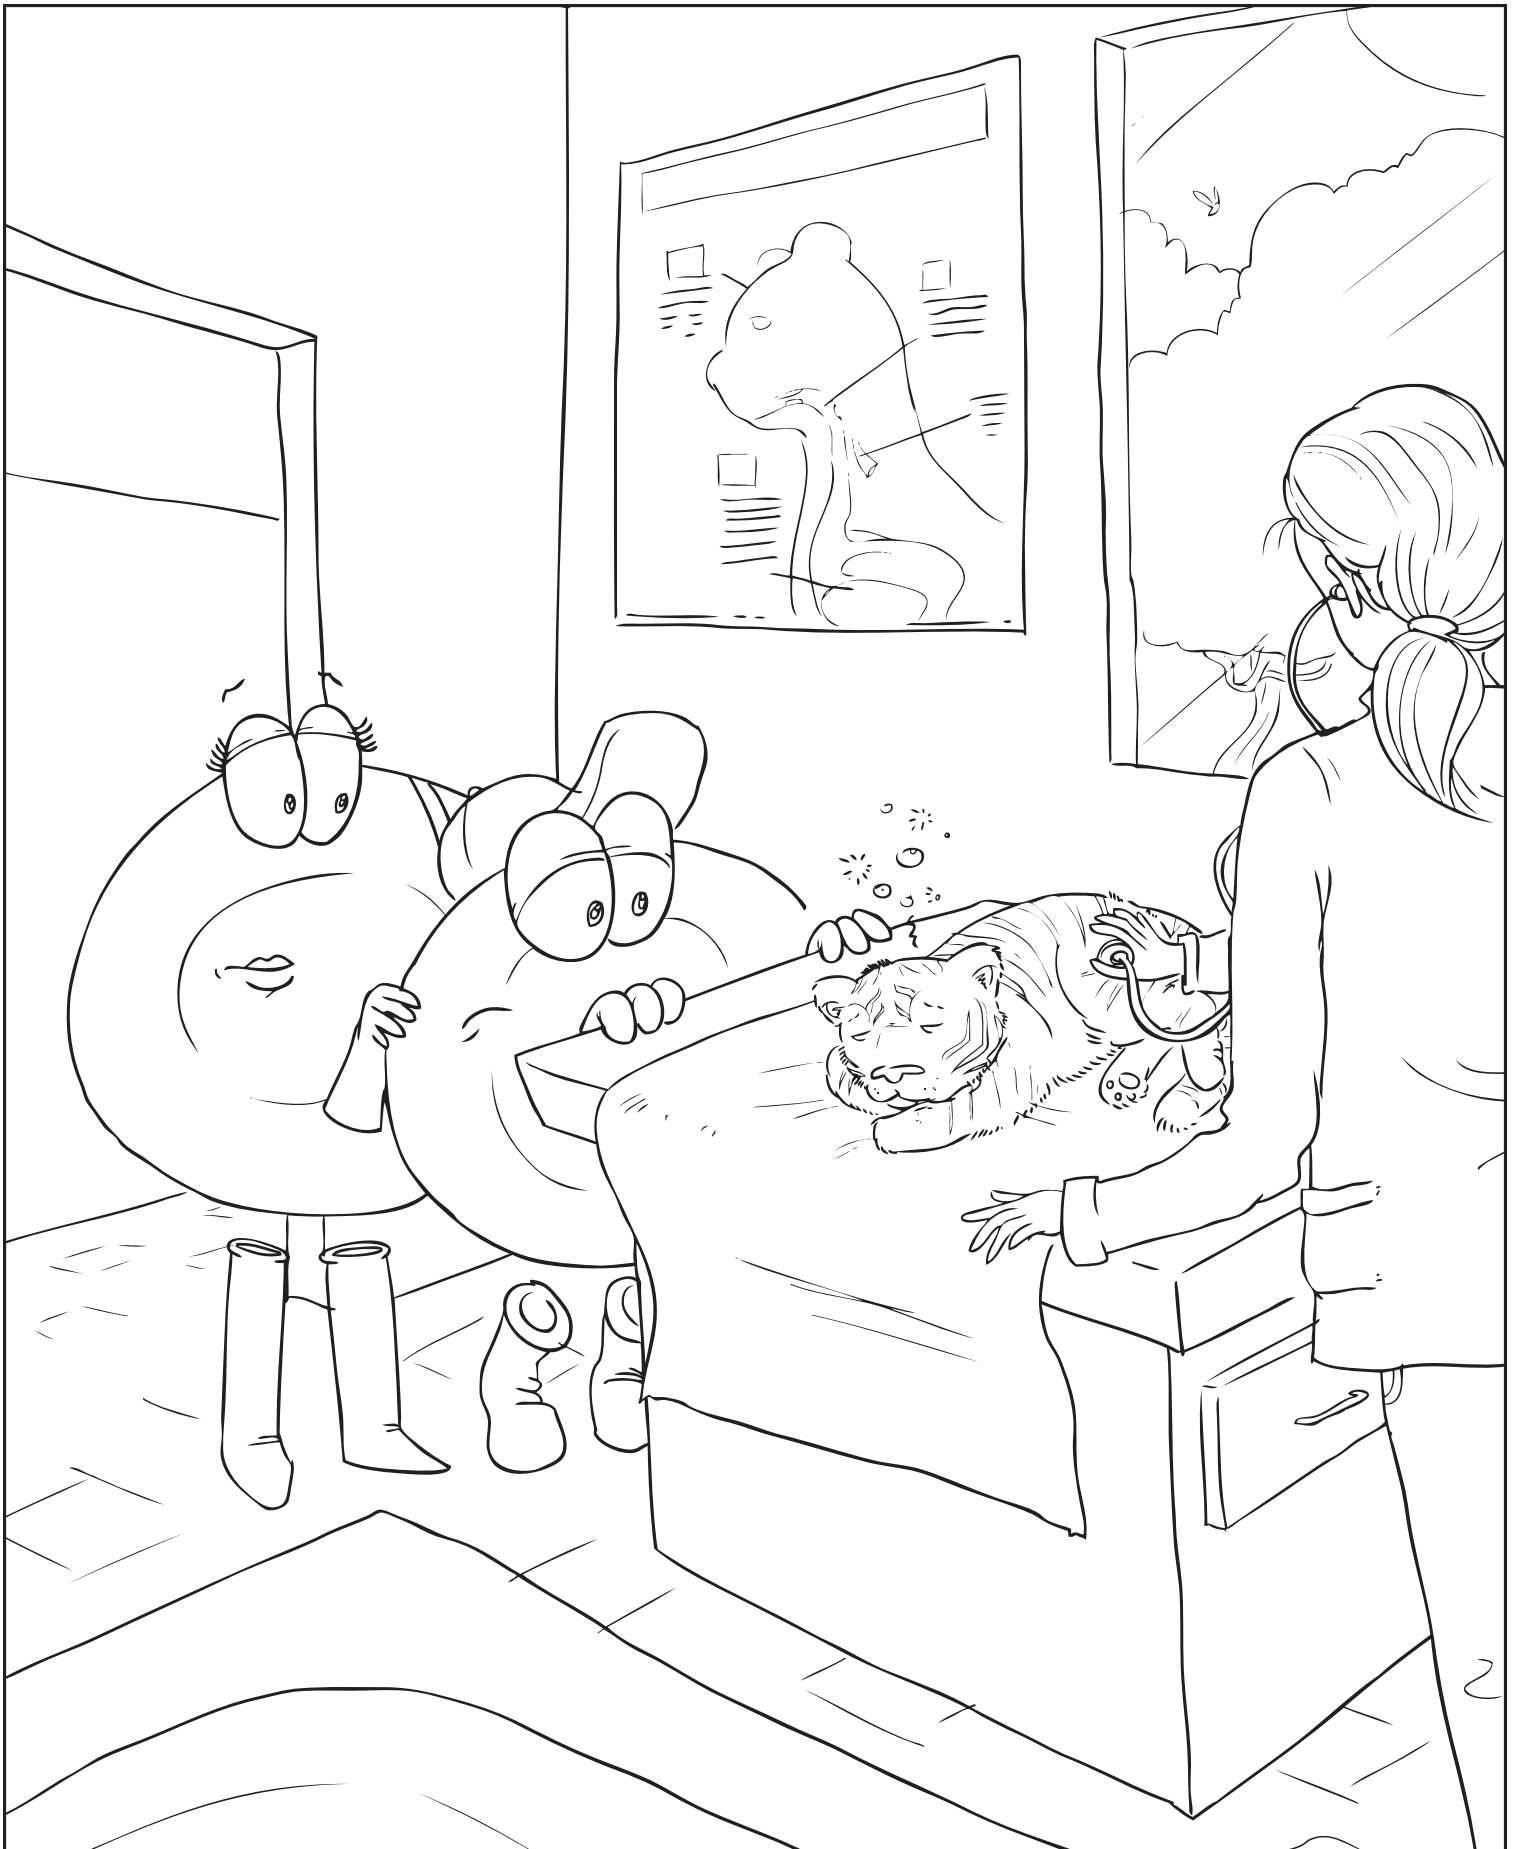

They go inside to see the penguins. Penguins enjoy cold weather.
Red has to stay warm in cold weather so he does not get sick.

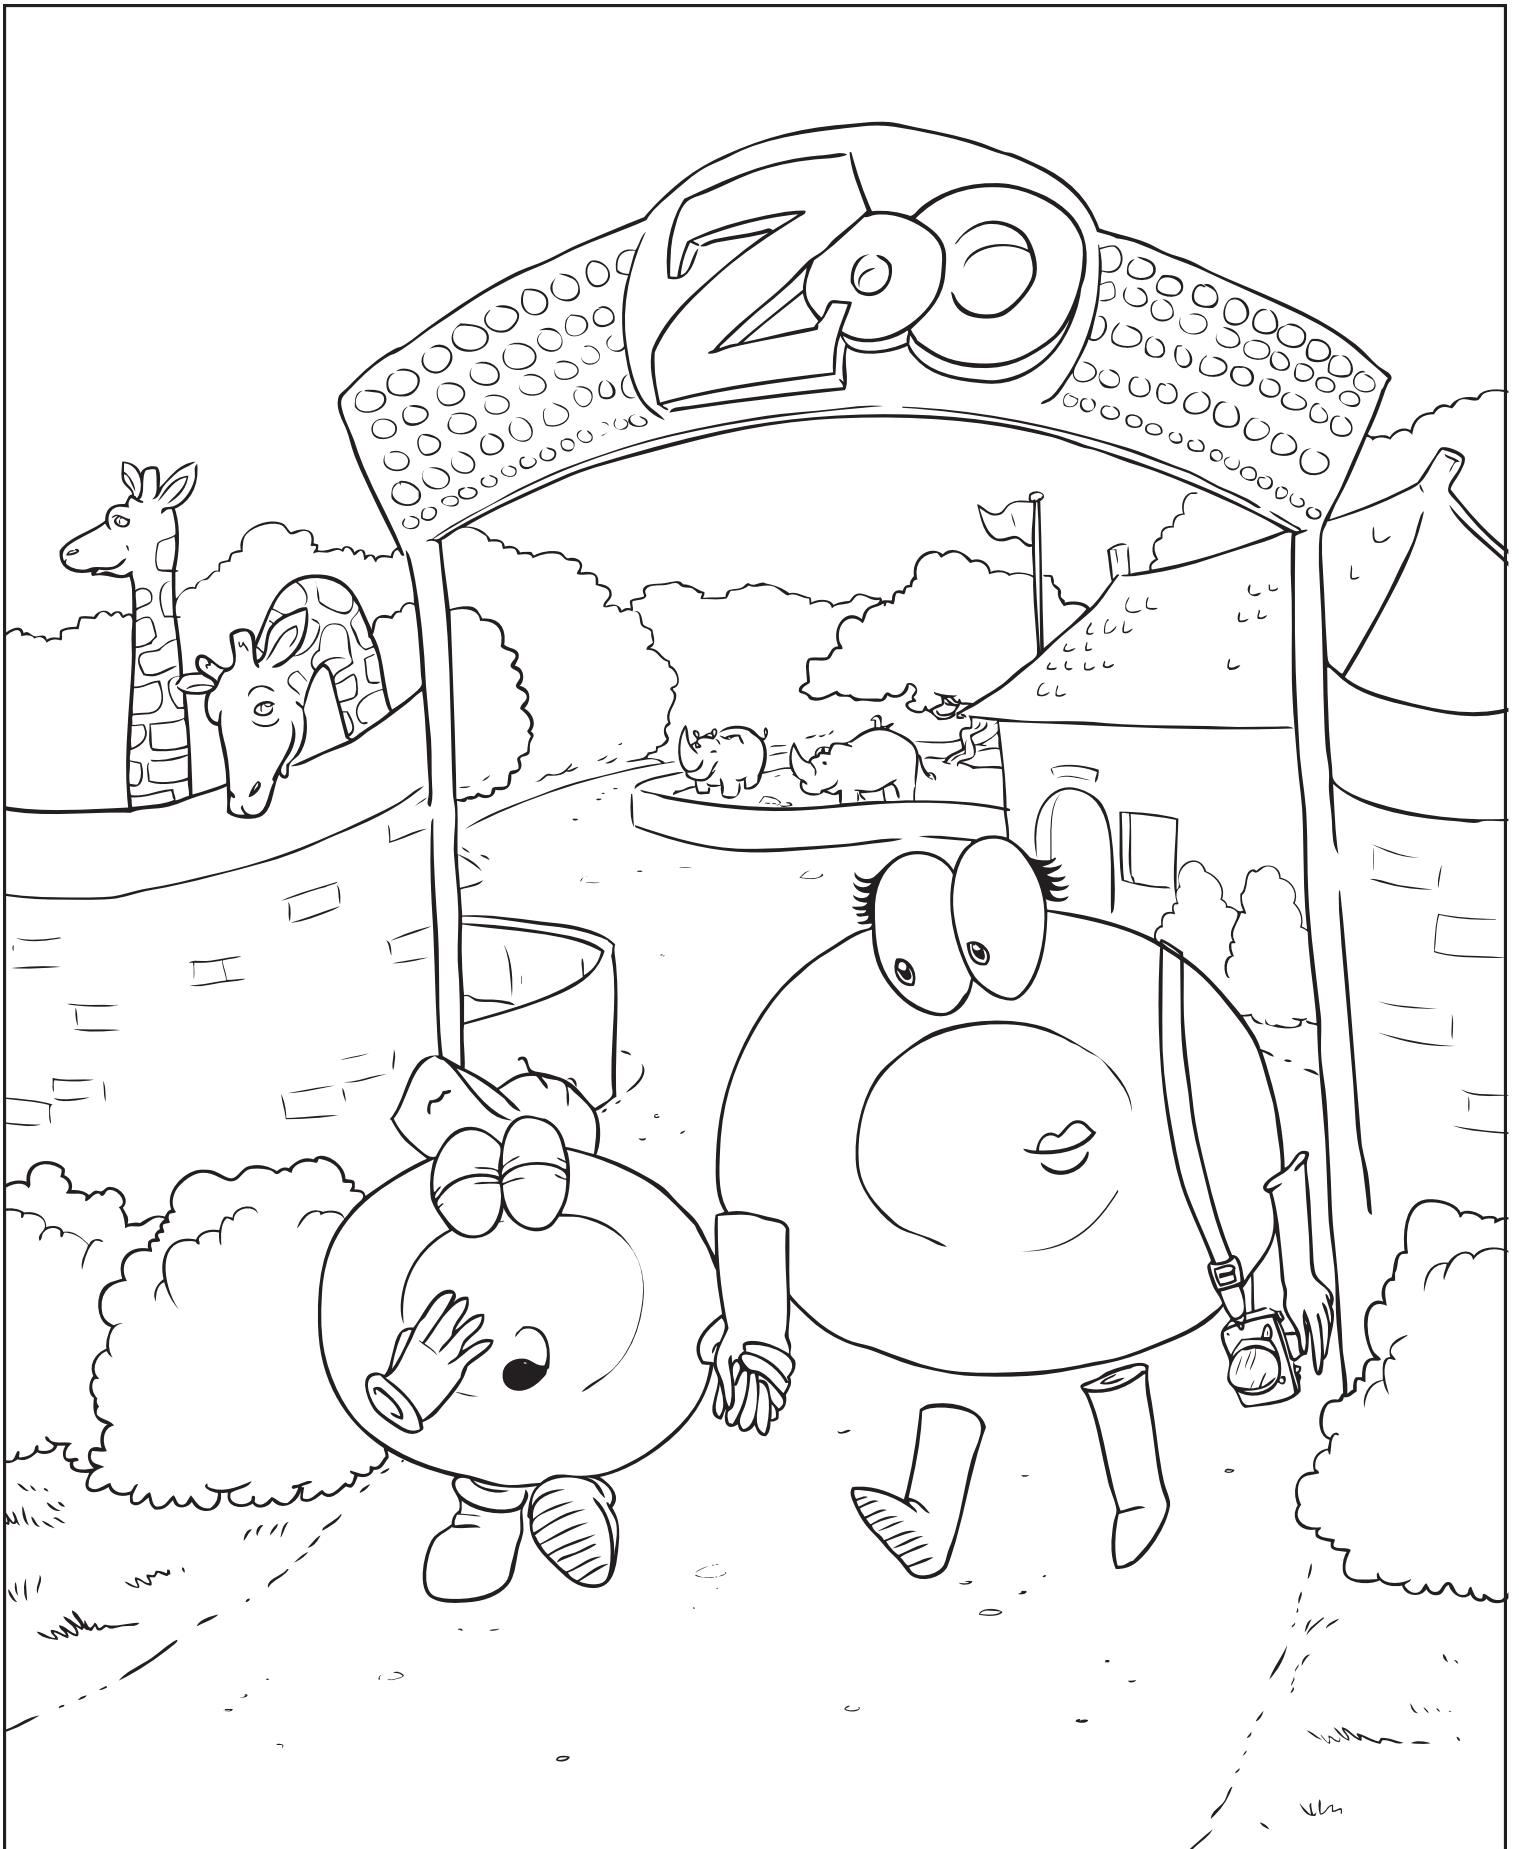

Look at all of the fish in the aquarium!

Animals get tired. The baby zebra lays down to rest so that he can play later.
Red knows that he needs to rest too.

Animals go to the doctor, just like Red does.
The vet will help the tiger feel better soon.

Red learned a lot about the animals today. They drink a lot of water and rest so they can play and feel good, just like him! It has been a long day. Time to rest!

for more information, contact

Cincinnati Comprehensive Sickle Cell Center

Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center

(513) 636 4541